EDUCATION SESSION

Evaluation and Diagnosis of Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) : Do the Symptoms Fit?

Date/Time: November 20, 2024 - 7:00-8:00am

Location: Zoom-<https://wvumdtv.zoom.us/j/8122222222>

Objectives: Following this activity, participants should be able to:

- Describe ADHD epidemiological trends, focusing on national and West Virginia data comparisons, and analyze stimulant prescription patterns without corresponding diagnoses.
- Outline the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) and American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP) recommendations for initiating an ADHD evaluation.
- List the DSM-5-TR diagnostic criteria for ADHD and describe evidence-informed assessment strategies, including narrowband and broadband assessments, as well as the use of screening tools for ADHD and comorbid disorders to aid in the identification and diagnosis of ADHD in both adults and children/adolescents.
- Describe common comorbid conditions and potential alternative diagnoses in ADHD, emphasizing that ADHD is a diagnosis of exclusion, and identify methods to appropriately screen for and manage these conditions to ensure accurate diagnosis and effective treatment.
- Discuss the implications of ADHD misdiagnosis, emphasizing the importance of evidence-informed strategies in diagnosis and management.
