EDUCATION SESSION

WV ACC Guidelines Treatment Recommendations for Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) by Age Group

Date/Time: 1 Hour

Location: TBD - Agreed upon by both parties prior to session

Objectives: Following this activity, participants should be able to:

- Summarize the nonpharmacological behavioral interventions for ADHD, detailing their role and effectiveness in each age group, and describe the specific nature of these interventions.
- Explain the pharmacological treatment options for ADHD across different age groups, including the use of stimulants and non-stimulants, and discuss the considerations for contraindications and precautions.
- Outline the importance and impact of educational interventions in managing ADHD, emphasizing how these strategies vary by age and developmental stage.
- Discuss the role and implications of off-label medications in ADHD treatment.
- Identify best practices for monitoring and follow-up in patients with ADHD, highlighting how these practices should be adapted for different age groups and treatment strategies
